ANNUAL REPORT
2015–2016

“What a wonderful, powerful musical experience today! I wasn’t familiar with the work or Martin’s other works, actually. It had a great, epic quality as well as many haunting and tender moments. Congratulations for this monumental achievement!”

The 48th season of the New Amsterdam Singers was an amazing success! Our annual cycle of concerts was highlighted by the ambitious and rewarding dramatic oratorio on Christ’s Passion, Golgotha, by Frank Martin, performed for the first time in over 60 years in New York City to a sold-out house at Trinity Church on Wall Street. In this and all our performances, we shared our love of choral music through a diverse and adventurous repertoire that drew the attention of audiences and critics across New York City and beyond.

Preparations for and celebrations around our performance of Golgotha were the focus of much of our work in 2015-2016. The Director’s Report details the additional musical preparations for Golgotha, but this once-in-a-lifetime performance also brought a number of other special efforts. We sponsored our first Indiegogo online fundraising campaign, reaching out to our fans and alumni through social media to raise $8,735 to support the performance. Fifty-five guests also attended a “director’s talk” several weeks before the concert to learn more from director Clara Longstreth about her preparations for the concert. Many thanks to the entire board for their support and hard work throughout this year of preparations for this incredible event.

Our 2015-2016 season also saw the continuation of two very successful events from the previous season, a two-evening revue of cabaret-style performances by members of the chorus at Don’t Tell Mama, and a night of dinner and swing dancing at Swing46. These events gave us wonderful time to celebrate the many and varied talents of our singers and friends and offered financial support for the broader work of NAS.

This season, we welcomed new manager Jay Rollins to the New Amsterdam Singers family. Jay is no stranger to the music world, having sung with the New York City Opera and the Grace Church Choral Society. He also brings experience in nonprofit communications and social media to his work coordinating the operations of NAS. He is helping us shift to a more digital culture and was an invaluable presence throughout the complexities of our performance of Golgotha.

I am sad to conclude my first report as President of the New Amsterdam Singers by saying that it will be my last, as I will be leaving New York City and NAS in September 2016 to take up professional opportunities in North Carolina. It has been a privilege and a pleasure to sing with NAS over the last four years and to be a part of leading the chorus through the remarkable 2015-2016 season. I am confident that our new President, Brian Farrell, will be a more than capable guide for this incredible group in the coming season and beyond, and I look forward to following the good things that are certainly ahead for the New Amsterdam Singers.
The NAS 48th Season was an unusual and particularly rewarding one, for chorus, conductor, and audience alike. It was dominated by our performance of a major, rarely performed masterpiece, Golgotha, by Frank Martin. For me, this was a project two years in the making. At an hour and a half, Golgotha is the longest single work I have conducted, with complex orchestration and requiring five professional soloists. There were over a dozen extra rehearsals for the orchestra and/or soloists. (Since none of the performers involved had ever played or even heard the piece, we allotted more than the normal amount of rehearsal time, all of which paid off.) The soloists and orchestra players were truly appreciative of the chance to work on an oratorio they had never encountered and which they found so beautiful. Without the tremendous support of our audience and family of supporters, this performance would not have been possible. We are so grateful.

Our manager Jay Rollins did a superb job of preparing for our sold-out house and organizing the large audience. Alex Ross wrote a brief but eloquent review in the New Yorker, praising the piece, calling the chorus “intrepid” for taking it on, and singling out soloist Tyler Duncan as “impeccable” in the role of Jesus.

The December performances went very well, book-ended by Bach and Buxtehude motets and including the winning Missa Brevis for women by Britten. If the tenors and basses felt underutilized in December, they made up for it in May, when they sang two stunning pieces on their own.

In May we sang a program on The Good Earth, with music by nine living American composers. Four of the composers attended our Sunday afternoon concert and at the end took part in a brief Q & A with the audience, which everyone enjoyed. The major piece was Robert Paterson’s Choral Suite from A New Earth, a world premiere of the piano version. There were five New York premieres as well. Judith Shatin’s Jabberwocky for men’s voices was daunting to learn, but fun to perform: a real hit!

In addition to performing at our December and May concerts, the Chamber Chorus singers undertook their own project; through the winter they rehearsed Brahms’ Liebeslieder Waltzes, and in April performed them twice. With alumni pianists Elizabeth Rodgers and Stephen Black, we sang this delightful set at the Interchurch Center on their noontime series, and again as part of a joint concert with a visiting choir from Avignon, France, the excellent Choeur Homilius. The Chamber Chorus also undertook a small, interesting assignment -- to learn and record an a cappella piece by a senior at Stuyvesant High School who needed a recording for his college application. Nathaniel Granor conducted the recording and we were all pleased to learn that the young man, Branch Freeman, was accepted at Swarthmore College as a composition major.

I thank David Recca, our assistant conductor, for his friendship, wise counsel and many skills as conductor. Pen Ying Fang, our accompanist, goes the extra mile in helping singers learn hard notes. We have been fortunate indeed to have Andy James as board President, Donna Zalichin as Vice President, Brian Farrell as Treasurer, and Nate Mickelson as Secretary. I thank all these, and the entire board, for their gifts of skill and time.
The 2015-16 NAS season was financially dominated by our eagerly anticipated and highly successful sold-out performance of Frank Martin’s masterpiece, Golgotha. This magnificent oratorio required a 45-piece professional orchestra and five professional vocal soloists, and as a result our expenses for last season outweighed our income. This was not unexpected, and in fact we had been setting aside income from previous seasons into an Operating Reserve account in order to fund this special event, as well as to commission new choral compositions to commemorate our approaching 50th Anniversary season in 2017-18. Thanks to this conservative planning, and thanks to generous contributions from corporations and individuals alike, we were able to close our fiscal year with adequate financial resources for the beginning of our upcoming season.

Our enthusiastic concert attendance this season totaled 1,071, closely matching our 10-year average, and our additional income from member dues, music library rentals, CD sales and special benefit evenings was also consistent with recent years. In order to keep pace with inflationary costs, the board has voted to raise prices for next season by a modest $5 per ticket and member dues by $5 per concert, which will be the first increase for each in many years. In addition, the board voted to withdraw $8,500 from our Endowment Fund in order to cover the initial cost of the 50th Anniversary choral commissions. This is the first endowment withdrawal since 2009, and was carefully calibrated within our established guidelines. The NAS endowment fund currently totals $220,721 in a healthy mix of stocks, bonds and cash.

Golgotha was by far the most expensive concert NAS has ever presented, but all who participated in or attended the performance praised it as an extraordinary artistic and emotional experience, and one we will never forget. Our upcoming season will be a return to more usual lean budgeting, as we present our more typical smaller scale but remarkably creative and inspiring concerts, as well as an exciting new slate of fund-raising activities.

How did we pay for this? We transferred funds from our accumulated Operating Reserve into our Operating Account to help meet our obligations, in large part the additional musicians’ fees associated with Golgotha.

In Memoriam:

ANDRÉ GUTHMAN
(1953-2016)

André Guthman sang tenor with NAS for 35 years before his death on May 24, 2016. He sang in many cabarets, in chamber chorus when he had time, and came on every tour abroad. One singer wrote that he always thought of André as “the heart of NAS history.”

André was a “go to” kind of man, always offering kind, thoughtful words of encouragement to friends troubled by jobs, families, love, and more. He was always happy, enjoying the company of and laughing with people. He and his wife Rose hosted members of NAS at many summer parties at their home in Westchester.

Many in NAS have described André as “a prince among men.” He led the tenor section in many ways and always sought out singers who seemed at the margins, wanting to bring them into the fold. He organized softball games at many outings until it seemed that too many of us had aged out of such activities. He himself maintained his athletic schedule - running, basketball, baseball - until a year or so before his death.

By day, André was an accountant, and he assisted the chorus with financial questions and issues for most of his years with us. He was the consummate professional, the rock you could count on never to crumble.

Beyond his generous personality, André was also a gifted musician. As a soloist he brought warmth, sincerity, humor and beauty of tone to all kinds of music, from Schütz to spirituals to cabaret. My favorites of all his repertoire were these:

Goin’ Around by Scott Joplin, the spiritual You may bury me in the East, Design for October by Irving Fine. Everyone’s favorites were Ain’t got time to die, the climax of many a tour program, and Don José from Far Rockaway, with which he charmed everyone within earshot, not least the ladies, young and old.

We miss him very much.

“Summer is gone; it is gone, it is ended.”

Professional Staff

Clara Longstreth, Music Director

Clara Longstreth has conducted New Amsterdam Singers since its formation in 1968. She has served on the faculty of Rutgers University, where she conducted the Voorhees Choir of Douglas College. A student of G. Wallace Woodworth at Harvard, Ms. Longstreth trained for her Master’s degree at the Juilliard School under Richard Westenburg. Further study included work with Amy Kaiser and Semyon Bychkov at the Mannes College of Music and with Helmuth Rilling at the Oregon Bach Festival.

In 1997 Ms. Longstreth guest-conducted the Limón Dance Company in performances with NAS and the Riverside Church Choir. In 2010 she again conducted the Limón Dance Company at the Skirball Center at NYU. She is a frequent guest conductor at the annual Messiah Sing-In at Avery Fisher Hall and at the summer sings of the West Village Chorale, the New York Choral Society, and other choruses. She has also served as adjudicator of choral festivals, conducted the Riverdale Country School choral groups and conducted the Juilliard Chorus and Orchestra at Alice Tully Hall. In 2006 she presented a lecture-demonstration on Adventures in Programming for the Eastern Division Convention of the American Choral Directors Association.

Of Ms. Longstreth’s programs, Allan Kozinn wrote in the New York Times, “When a director takes up the challenge of building a cohesive program around a broad theme, we are reminded that programming can be an art.”

David Recca, Assistant Music Director

David Recca is currently an Adjunct Professor of Music at the Conservatory of Music of Purchase College, SUNY. There he directs the Purchase College Chorus and Purchase Chamber Singers, is a conductor of the Purchase Symphony Orchestra, and teaches a variety of undergraduate courses including music history, music theory, ear-training, and conducting. He also directs the Southern Connecticut Camerata, a Norwalk-based early music ensemble celebrating its 60th season. In May 2014, David completed the coursework and performing requirements for the Doctorate of Musical Arts Degree in Choral Conducting at the Yale School of Music and the Yale Institute of Sacred Music. He holds a Master’s degree in Choral Conducting from the Eastman School of Music and a Performer’s Certificate in Vocal Coaching and a Bachelor of Music Degree in Composition from Purchase College. He lives with his wife Sarah in Danbury, Connecticut.
Pen Ying Fang, Accompanist

Pen Ying Fang was born in Taipei, Taiwan, and began studying piano at age five. She attended an “experimental” music-focused grade school there until she moved to the United States to continue her education. Here she studied with Paul Hoffmann and Barbara Gonzalez-Palmer, earning a B.M. and M.M. in Piano at Rutgers University in New Jersey. She has performed around the New York metropolitan area, building an extensive repertoire of solo and chamber works. Ms. Fang has accompanied the master classes of many prominent artists, including Keith Underwood, Evelyn Glennie, Brian McIntosh and Christopher Arneson. Additionally, she has toured domestically and overseas with various choirs in the New York area, and in 2007 she played at the “Florence Voice Seminar” in Florence, Italy. Currently she serves as a staff accompanist at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J., and teaches piano students in the central New Jersey area.

Jay Rollins, Manager

Jay is thrilled to have completed his first year as the NAS manager. Growing up in a musical household, he went on to receive two degrees in voice performance and enjoy a solo career in opera that allowed him to perform in some of the best houses in the US and Europe.

More recently, he transitioned into a new career. He has more than ten years of experience in various capacities in communications, development, public relations, and marketing roles, with extensive work in more than 20 developing countries. He is currently completing a Master of Arts degree in Journalism and Mass Communication.

With the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR), he was responsible for the brand and messaging of an organization with a staff of almost 300 in more than 80 countries. He was responsible for seeing that all staff were trained in basic communications functions, brand promise/awareness, social media and crisis communication. He ensured that these concepts were translated into the country-appropriate language and context. He has been called a pioneer in social media for non-profit organizations and quoted in several books, including Elizabeth Drescher’s Click 2 Save.

Additionally, Jay has traveled extensively and reported around the world. From the border of Syria to the emerging nation of South Sudan, he has been a one-person producer, photographer, reporter, videographer, grip, and editor.

Audience Responses To

Golgotha:

“I wanted
to congratulate you and tell you how much I enjoyed…and was blown away by the performance. My husband was so sad to miss it, but he loved reading every word of the program, and listened to it on YouTube…a sad substitute for the incredible NAS performance! Bravo to you, Clara, and to the entire chorus, and that magnificent orchestra!”

“Thank you so very much for introducing all of us to this fantastic work of art.”

“All in all it was a wonderful afternoon; I was transported.”

“I want to give my deepest congratulations on a superb performance this Sunday. This was a difficult piece for everybody, but the expression of the text shone through brilliantly. I also much appreciated the detailed program notes.”

“I found it profoundly moving. I had 11 people there, and everyone raved. Two of them, who interestingly are not religious, found it so moving they were reduced to tears.
One of them, a non-practicing Jew, made my favorite comment, and I quote; ‘I was crying repeatedly, and I don’t usually cry over Jesus stories.’”

“What a triumph! The soloists were gorgeous, and completely at home in their contrasting dramatic assignments, and musical personalities. And of course the chorus was totally committed and at home in their roles, sometimes as commentators, sometimes pushing the drama ahead.”
